What is it in it for my company?
The following are benefits for organizations sponsoring internships for business students:

- Cost effective way to fill short-term needs without long-term commitment (temporary or seasonal positions).
- Cost effective way to recruit and evaluate potential employees.
- Permanent staff freed up for more important/creative assignments.
- Management experience for employee that supervises the intern.
- Maintain constant source of fresh ideas and insights into your organization.
- Benefit from cutting edge technology, perspectives, and relevant skills currently being learned in the classroom.
- Satisfaction of training and developing the next generation of workers.
- Develop partnership with Moody College of Business.
- Contribute to education.

How do I develop an internship program for my company?
The following are suggestions about how to develop an internship program for your company:

- Determine your organization’s need.
- Set goals and structure the internship experience ahead of time.
- Prepare job description that includes meaningful duties.
- Describe meaningful, but realistic tasks/responsibilities.
- Develop project-related assignments that the intern can work on from start to finish.
- Encourage interaction between intern and supervisor/mentor.

What is expected of my company?
To ensure that the student may gain insight and real-world knowledge from the internship experience, the business internship program expects the following from the sponsoring business:

- The student is assigned a supervisor/mentor who is knowledgeable about the area of expertise in which the intern is appointed.
- Orient student to company, its policies, procedures, and appropriate professional and clerical staff.
- Provide student with adequate resources necessary to accomplish job objectives.
- Assign and supervise tasks and responsibilities consistent with the student’s role in the company and their major/minor area of study.
- Allow the student an opportunity to attend and participate in interviews, meetings, conferences, etc. with their mentor/supervisor as appropriate.
